Scouts, Athletes Have Special Days While Seniors Swing (and Save) at Canobie Lake Park

SALEM, NH – It pays to be part of a group, especially if your destination is Canobie Lake Park in early June.

Saturday, June 5th, is Scouts Day and scout troop members wearing any classification of Boy Scout or Girl Scout official apparel can purchase one admission to Canobie Lake Park that day and get a second admission of equal or lesser value for free. At least one element of an official scout uniform must be worn to qualify.

Then Sunday, June 6th, is Big Band Day at Canobie when Seniors 60 years of age and over receive a discounted admission to the Park of just $10. That also includes a special show featuring the big-band stylings of the Dave Whitney Orchestra appearing in Canobie's famous and historic Dancehall Theater from 1:00 to 3:00 PM.

Canobie Lake Park also celebrates Athletics Day on Saturday, June 12th. Any member of a community or school sports team, dance studio, gymnastics studio, cheerleading, karate, or other athletic group wearing their team uniform to the Park will be able to purchase one admission and receive a second admission of equal or lesser value free. At least one element of the uniform must be worn and the individual must be a member of the specific team or group.

These special offers cannot be combined with any other discount, offer, priced pass or promotion. More information on Canobie Lake Park's specials, other events and Park hours are available at canobie.com.
